LANGUAGE, LITERACY AND NUMERACY

EQC Institute understands that all students are individuals with different life experiences and varying literacy and numeracy skills. EQC Institute recognises that reading, writing, listening, speaking and understanding mathematical concepts and processes are integral skills required for work and are therefore an important component of training.

A student undertaking a course with us requires satisfactory language, literacy, numeracy and digital (LLND) skills relevant to the context of the qualification they are undertaking with EQC Institute.

Prior to finalisation of enrolment and accessing of learning and assessment materials, students are required to complete a form requesting information in relation to schooling and prior education and any special needs a student may have. In addition, students may, depending on particular course requirements, be required to undertake a verbal and/or written or other exercise which is used to ascertain any potential LLND issues. If any potential LLND issues are identified, a pre-enrolment interview is arranged to identify if an applicant has or could have insufficient LLND skills to engage in the course. If the applicant is identified as having or potentially having insufficient LLND skills, the applicant is interviewed by an EQC Institute Special Needs Officer and can be provided with additional support as needed or, if required, referred to an appropriate third party for LLND assessment and support. EQC Institute encourages students with special needs and/or Language, Literacy, Numeracy or Digital skills concerns to discuss this with our Student Services Team, who can refer the student to a third party assessor, LLND resource provider or LLND resources, or arrange individual support, as needed. Any referrals to a third party are at the cost of the student.

EQC Institute will provide students with additional learning support during the course if required. Students may schedule learning support sessions with a Trainer/Assessor, and mentoring on an as-needed basis for this purpose, as well as access to the Student Services and Student Administration teams who provide assistance to students with enquiries, requests for information and learner support.

It is your responsibility to keep up with messages that are posted.

It is your responsibility to regularly check the Learning Hub for notices and announcements.

COMPETENCY BASED LEARNING

Students enrolled in training which will lead to either a Statement of Attainment or Certificate (testamur) for a qualification are required to complete assessments to demonstrate competency. Competency based assessment is the process of gathering evidence to confirm that you can perform or demonstrate the required skills and knowledge. Assessments are conducted throughout the training period from a range of different activities and situations.

As an example, assessment activities may include:

- Written assessments such as Short Answer & Multiple Choice questions, Assignments, Reports and/or Projects
- Completion of case studies, role plays and / or similar activities
- Demonstrations of practical skills and knowledge

- Students will be given feedback on assessment activities where applicable. Rather than using a marking scale, competency based assessment determines a student as “competent” or “not yet competent”.

Assessments required for each unit are detailed in the course material provided for each subject. All assessments included in assessment materials are summative and are therefore required to be satisfactorily completed to demonstrate evidence of competency in a given unit and subject. All formative assessments are included in the student learning material. There may be some assessment activities such as Role-plays, Assignments or Projects, and Demonstrations which are completed over time.

SUBMITTING ASSESSMENT ACTIVITIES

- Students are required to submit assessment activities at least every 2 weeks to demonstrate an ongoing commitment to their studies. Our experience shows that students who complete regular assessments are more likely to successfully complete their studies.
- If you do not meet the above time frame, EQC Institute reserves the right to suspend your course, or dismiss your enrolment at EQC Institute’s sole discretion.
- Upon completion of assessment, if a student is found to have an unsatisfactory result, then a re-submission for reassessment is required.

NATIONALLY RECOGNISED TRAINING

EQC Institute is a Registered Training Organisation (RTO) and follows the guidelines as set out by the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF). On completion of your studies you will be issued with a nationally recognised qualification, after all assessment and requisite checks are completed by EQC Institute.

Nationally recognised qualifications are highly valued by employers and are sought after by those developing a career. This qualification is like a "stamp of approval" by the issuing body of the fact that you have completed training and assessment that meets the requirements of the Training Package and therefore the requirements set by industry for your chosen qualification.

For details on nationally recognised training EQC Institute offers, please refer to our website.

YOUR QUALIFICATION

Your Results

All students will receive their assessment feedback and result within 21 working days of receipt of submission.

Once you have completed all required assessments for your course, your work will proceed to be signed off by an EQC Institute Assessor as detailed in the next section.

Please note: If you are eligible for and require a Statement of Attainment to be issued during your enrolment, for completion of the relevant units of study, you will need to notify the EQC Institute office. A Statement of Attainment records completion of units within a qualification, which are towards the full qualification (but where the full qualification has not yet been attained). In other words, a Statement of Attainment is an RTO official record of what units have (at that point) been attained. If required, a Statement of Attainment will be issued within one month of receipt of the relevant request and sign off by an EQC Institute Assessor that all relevant requirements for the particular units of competency have been met.

Note that in order to receive a Statement of Attainment for a particular unit of competency, all requirements of that unit must have been met.

For more details, contact us at the contact details on the back page of this document.

Academic Transcript (Record of Results)

On completion of your course, after completion of all assessments and necessary checks by the EQC Institute Team, you will receive an academic transcript. This is an official statement of your results (Record of Results), listing the competencies completed for the qualification being issued. This transcript is confirmation of having completed the relevant qualification and can be provided as evidence of having done so, such as when applying for membership with an Association, if relevant, or gaining insurance. Your academic transcript will be automatically emailed to you after all assessment tasks have been completed for all subjects and signed off as satisfactory by an EQC Institute Assessor. Please allow up to 4 weeks for the issue of your academic transcript, after the EQC Institute assessment and issuance teams have confirmed your completion and readiness for graduation.

Qualification Certificate

Once all completion checks for your qualification have been performed by the EQC Institute Team, the Team will issue your Record of Results and Diploma to you.

Your qualification certificate can be displayed as confirmation that you have completed nationally recognised training with EQC Institute.

Please allow up to 4 weeks for the issue of your qualification certificate, after the EQC Institute assessment and issuance teams have confirmed your completion and readiness for graduation.

RE-ISSUING QUALIFICATION CERTIFICATE / RECORD OF RESULTS

In the event of a lost or damaged EQC Institute certificate, record of results or statement of attainment, the student or graduate may contact EQC Institute to order a replacement.

Students must provide proof of identity including their student identification number in addition to other personal identification information. Refer to the Administration Fee Schedule (downloadable from our website for applicable fees. It may take up to four weeks for a copy award document, record or statement to be completed and issued.

Release of Contact Details and Information

To ensure that Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) meet the national standards and offer quality training to students, the registering body conducts regular audits (or performance assessments) of RTOs. The audit process involves a review of a training organisation's policies, procedures, record keeping and training and assessment and management practices. On occasion the registering body may contact past and present training students to conduct an interview to confirm that the organisation is complying with its obligations and providing a service which meets the needs of clients and industry.

Upon request, EQC Institute is required to supply to the registering body the following information in relation to students:

- Contact details including address, telephone numbers and email address

By enrolling with us, you agree to us providing such information to ASQA, the registering body, if we are requested by them to do so. ASQA may also request details of your study with us.
